(COURTESY OF THE NEWS-TELEGRAM)

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 29. Tuesday, Aug. 25th, 2.15 p.m.
London—Official dispatches say Namur, a Belgian fortress, has surrendered to the Germans. The British press regard this an inexplicable and severe blow to the allies but declare that British, French and Russians will fight to a finish.

London—Field-Marshal French estimates the British casualties around Charleroi, Belgium, at 2000. Charleroi was taken and re-taken six times before the allies retired to their original covering positions. Fighting was resumed today. The allies surprised and drove back German advance detachments.

London—Ostend reports say 30,000 Germans attacking Malines, 13 miles from Antwerp. Brussels has been abandoned by the main body of the Germans.

Rome—The Austrian town of Cattaro has been destroyed by the allies and the Austrian fleet in the Adriatic is said to be ready to surrender.

Paris—Russian reports indicate surprisingly rapid and successful movements but warn against too great caution as the line of defence along the Vistula River is strongly fortified.

Washington—A concentrated advance on Paris is probable says a German wireless to Saville. This also says the French armies under Joffre are broken and 10,000 prisoners of war taken.

A Week of the War

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 28. Friday, Aug. 21st, 9.15 p.m.
Ottawa—Canadian troops now assembling at Valenciennes, Que., will go direct to Continent and will likely see real service in full sense of the term.

London—Britain lends Belgium $50,000,000. Belgian army reached Antwerp in good order following retreat from Brussels. They are prepared to co-operate with allies in offensive movements.

Seattle—British cruiser New Castle and French cruiser Montcalm are co-operating in defence of the Canadian Pacific coast.

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 24. Saturday, Aug. 22nd, 3 p.m.

London—The Germans advance in Belgium making progress to date without any serious resistance. Kaiser's troops after taking Brussels are pushing rapidly to the northeast. They have occupied Ghent and Ostend to the southeast. They are investing Namur which they will find a hard nut to crack.

Message via Copenhagen says the Germans are angered over Britain's acceptance of the assistance of Japan and may attempt to arouse Islam revolt against France in northern Africa and Britain in India and Africa.

London—It is reported from Antwerp that the Germans will not continue to hold Brussels, contenting themselves with marching through the city. City treasurer says Brussels will not pay the $40,000,000 war tax imposed by the Germans.

Washington—Japan has instructed her charge d'affaires to leave Berlin at 4 a.m. today, if an answer is not received to the Japanese ultimatum.

Rome—Events moving rapidly toward a crisis. Italy may be drawn into hostilities with Austria any moment. Army is being mobilized with speed.

Special Reuter's via London—Turkey is mobilizing her army and navy under the supervision of a German field officer. She can put 400,000 soldiers in the field against the Balkan allies. Europe awaits Turkey's decision because her entry into the fight on the side of Germany would cement the Balkan-Greece and Bulgaria immediately taking a hand for Serbia against Austria.

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 25. Saturday, Aug. 22, 7 p.m.

London—Germans have set in in deadly earnest to bombard Namur. Large bodies of troops are continuing movements to Ghent, Bruges, and Ostend. Contact is imminent with main body of allied troops. Not later than Monday, a really important engagement must take place and the Germans will either be repulsed seriously or gain a footing on French territory.

London—The Servians have won a notable victory over the Austrians. By latest reports, the Austrians lost in three days 20,000 men with 10,000 prisoners taken by the Servians.

London—Both Germany and Austria have called "the Landsturm," the last line of reserves, to the colors.

Rome—Fears are entertained as to the result of the consistory for the appointment of a new Pope. The Pro-German-Austrian portion of the consistory may be arranged against the Pro-French party. What the result may be is vainly conjectured. It might result in a third and independent schism.

Edmonton—The 1st infantry have entrained for Valenciennes, Que., but the 19th dragons (among which are the Claresholm boys) are not equipped with horses yet and their going out may be delayed for a few days.

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 26. Sunday, Aug. 23, 6.30 p.m.
Tokio—Japan-to-day declared war on Germany and has ordered immediate action on land and sea.

Paris—Rome dispatches say Emperor Franz-Joseph, of Austria, is dying. Prince William Weid has fled from Albania.

Mobilization of Italian army began on Saturday morning. A declaration of war against Austria is but a few days off.

Lige and Namur forts are still holding out.

Dispatches confirm reports of a great battle beginning Saturday morning. On a long line, from Charleroi to Namur, the French and Germans are battling fiercely.

French shells wreck the German Zeppelin No. 8, from Strasbourg. War office says German victory reported in Lorraine was ridiculously exaggerated. The German successes in Lorraine were not so decisive as the French successes in Alsace.

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 27. Monday, Aug. 24th, 3.15 p.m.

London—Official statements say the British were engaged with the Germans all day yesterday near Mons, Belgium and held their ground.

Our Duty

The following poem by one of our at-one-time citizens appeared in the Calgary News-Telegram of Saturday last. His friends will remember his excellent poem which won him a prize in the Albertan contest last winter. Both are worth preserving. We quote the recent poem.

We, at home, have our duties, too;
That we should bear in mind:
You and I have our work to do,
Like the lad in red, and the boy in blue.

Though we are left behind.
Many a heart is sad tonight
There's many an unquiet pain
For a son or sweetheart, off to fight
For the cry of Freedom, the cause of Right.

And the dear old flag again.
And what are we, if we can't resign,
With ever so sharp a pang,
A boy of yours, a son of mine,
To help to weave that thin red line
Of which the poet sang?

This is the lesson Britain taught.
The call of Honor and Truth:
To take up arms because we ought;
Nor count that the cost of the cause
Is bought.

With the flower of our youth.
That is one of our tasks today,
One of the things to do:
And pray that God Almighty may,
So give them a cheer as they march away.

Keep them safe and true.
MAX BISHOP.

Stavely

Mrs. Wm. Huston and Mrs. Frank Keiser were in Calgary last week.

Miss McCormack is progressing nicely in Calgary. Her sister, Mrs. Ward, returned on Monday night.

R. A. Hopkins and F. S. Ditto left on Monday morning for a week's jaunt through the Kootenays.

Miss Selma Hogan has gone to Claresholm to attend the High School there.

The Farmers unloaded a car of woven wire last week.

E. C. Webster has returned from his homestead at Empress.

Quite a number of the school children looked disappointed when they could not get into the school house on Monday morning. (Children must have changed since the editor was a boy.)

The Alberta Farmers' Co-operative elevator has had a new and up-to-date engine installed and an addition built on the north side to be used as a flour warehouse.

James Beatty is at work in Ditto's hardware store again after an absence of six months which he has spent on his homestead near Empress.

The Stavely Hotel has been provided with a new fall overcoat in the shape of a coat of white paint with blue trimmings.

Miss Edwards and W. Edwards, of Indian Head, Sask., are visiting their sister, Mrs. Thos. Wilson.

Mrs. W. Severson is visiting at the Bartlett Ranch.

School will not reopen until Monday, August 31st.

Mrs. H. E. Birch, of Calgary, is visiting her nephew, Howard Birch.

Miss Hollacker is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. Crossman.

The Misses Culbreth are attending the High School at Claresholm.

Impatient for Summons

In a letter from S. O. Bryan at Edmonton with the Claresholm volunteers for the Alberta contingent for overseas service, he says he has been appointed saddler to the 19th dragons. He occupied a similar position with mounted troops in South Africa. The 19th have about completed their preparations for departure for Valenciennes and expect to go any day. There was some difficulty in securing suitable horses for this body of cavalry but this has been remedied. The boys are all well and eager for the summons to the front.

Visiting Pastor Likes Us

Rev. E. O. Vik, of La Crosse, Wis., spent a few days in this neighborhood this week visiting friends. He is highly delighted with the country, as in spite of the poor crops, he thinks we have the soil. He will have nothing but good words to say about this part of Alberta when he returns. Mr. Vik was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Viste while in this neighborhood.

Navy Wireless Operator

Many in this town remember Alfred Chamberlain, who was on the staff of M. Fisher for some time and who erected and operated, in collaboration with Allan Wannamaker, a wireless station at the Town Hall by which messages were exchanged between the Wannamaker house and the town hall and also with Calgary. In a letter to A. F. Boniface from the Stockwell Wireless School in London, Eng., he says he has passed successfully his examinations and has received his license from the British government as a wireless operator and, having enlisted for service in it, was being accepted, he is awaiting the announcement of his appointment as wireless operator on one of His Majesty's ships of war.

Obedient Britain's Call

James Cummings, of the staff of The Claresholm Advertiser, a British army reservist, received his notice on Monday of last week to proceed direct to Quebec, at once for transportation, with other army reservists in Canada, to rejoin his regiment, the Lancashire Fusiliers. Mr. Cummings saw service in the South African War in 1901 and 1902 with the Manchester regiment. He left a week ago Tuesday morning for Quebec. Mrs. Cummings and children will remove from Dayland and reside in Claresholm during his absence. If opportunity and the censor permit Mr. Cummings will write The Advertiser of his experiences from time to time.

Fifth Instalment

SHARP WITS WILL WIN THE PRIZES IN THE ROUSING SUMMER PASTIME

Don't think you're up against a stone wall, or that you're confronting a whale when you've been expecting perch, so to speak, just because you are not familiar with all names of players of sports, such as are represented by the rous pictures. Just ask yourself what you see in the picture, watch closely and a name will occur to you. Baseball players and their ilk have mighty peculiar names, sometimes. If you want to make sure you're right, use our Summer Pastime Handbook.

Come now, do a little mental thinking. Examine these pictures.

Summer Pastime Rous Pictures 25 to 30

You can be a winner. You can get the Summer Pastime Handbook by sending in seventy-five cents, the price of a new six months' subscription. Price of Handbook is twenty-five cents or 30 cents per sub. Call at the Advertiser office, Claresholm, or write us. Get that Handbook. It is a valuable aid in the competition.

Related Comment on Stavely Agricultural Fair

Emphasis on the "Agricultural"

The Stavely Agricultural Society has marked another mile in its history and this year's fair takes second place to none of its predecessors and, for that matter, to few of the surrounding fairs. Many things tended to make a successful issue a matter of doubt, but optimistic and faithful work overcame these and the results exceeded the most sanguine hopes of the workers.

Seven a.m. of the day of the Fair saw the rain falling in torrents but the sun soon shone and all roads led to Stavely. The judges which are selected by the provincial government to judge the horse classes were expected the night before but some appeared until 10.40 on the morning of the Fair and then only one of the two. This caused some confusion in the plans and a delay in the program throughout.

The hot weather and the early harvest kept many from planning a turnout and the morning rain deterred others so that the gate receipts and the grand stand receipts considerably below those of last year.

service is mentioned. Speaking of types of vehicles for army transport

There were more exhibits in every class and a superior class of exhibits than last year. The horse and cattle exhibits showed the most marked improvement and it is gratifying to see the greater interest being taken to improve the standard in this district. There were 92 entries for the horse prizes and 52 cattle entries. Sheep and swine classes need more attention paid to them by the farmer. It is a little more trouble to bring these exhibits to the Fair but to encourage the raising of these kinds of stock, the latter of which is of so great an importance to the "mixed farmer" and the former which can be made to assist in the eradication of weeds and the swelling of the pocketbook. Poultry is drawing more competition but there is still a large field practically undeveloped in this industry in this neighborhood and the profits of the poultry business are becoming more and more realized every year. With the egg circle at Claresholm, organized but a short time ago, shipping in the busy harvest season from 250 to 300 dozen, eggs, a new source of revenue is suggested.

There were more grains and grasses than last year but less exhibits in roots and vegetables. However considering the conditions this year, there was a splendid exhibit.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

It was a plucky dash to the south under cover of silence that the Rainbow, of our "tin-pot navy", made when she slipped from Esquimaux and in the face of the presence of the Leipzig and Nürnberg, two German cruisers, which were hunting the California coast, brought the Shearwater and Algerine who were about 100 miles away from a safe port with 100 or no chance of escaping the larger ships, to the protection of the batteries at Esquimaux.

Ordinary common sense coupled with the ingenuity in the phone directory should be sufficient to keep the phone subscriber from asking the operators to make connections for phone calls during a thunderstorm. If the ingenuity subscriber were to be over the switchboard during the progress of a severe electrical storm, he would find many reasons for not wishing to use his own phone during such a time. It is a very unpleasant position for the operator and none the less safe and very few cases are reported that the phone user needs to put himself or the operator in danger from an electrical shock.

The area affected by the crop failure will be divided into five districts, and an officer appointed by the Dominion government, will be placed in charge of each district, who will provide for all who need assistance.

The intention of the government is to protect the settlers from want or hardship. To enable them to continue farming operations next year, provision will be made for settlers to retain their stock. Already settlers have been warned to secure hay, and where this is impossible, to send their stock to districts where there is good grazing or angle straw and chaff from threshing. Where either of these courses is impossible, the government will furnish hay.

Free transportation from the affected areas to good crop districts will be insured for settlers so that they can secure employment in harvest and threshing work. If relief will commence at once, and no effort will be spared to protect the settlers. The mounted police will co-operate with the government in the work of relief. The districts chiefly affected are in southwestern Alberta.

This from The New York Herald which has a long knowledge of French affairs than any other American paper, is worth reading: "Is France afraid of the Kaiser? My opinion is that there is a strong feeling that the situation is different from that of 1870—very different that there is a belief that this time is stowed of the Prussians coming to Paris, the Frenchmen coming to Berlin. In fact, the situation is as different as day from night. In 1870 there was an unpopular emperor and a mere handful of an army—250,000 men of which 100,000 were surrendered treacherously at Metz. In 1870 Germany moved on France after sending Ego and Lanning that that country would not interfere.
The great heart of the French people then leapt against a monarchy, and by a revolution a republic arose from the ashes of Paris. Now France is equipped with a modern army, which in numbers very nearly matches Germany's. It is a good organization, and its machinery practically includes the entire nation."

OUR QUESTION BOX

N. B.—Correspondents must sign name. The editor of this column will answer what he can, what he cannot he will not answer.

Uthlans

What are "Uthlans"?—M. T.
Ans.—Prussian light cavalry, whose chief weapon is the lance.
During the Franco-Prussian war
they were used as scouts.

Alsace-Lorraine

Where the provinces of Alsace-Lorraine originally French? Which is the most northern? What percentage of the population are French?—H. B.

Ans.—An Imperial territory of Germany. Alsace embraces the west half of the valley of the Rhine and the east half of the Vosges mountains. Lorraine, which lies northwest of Alsace, consists of a low plateau, drained by the Saar in the east and the Moselle in the west.
Between 1618 and 1697 it came under French sway, but was taken by Germany in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71. It has a population of about 2,000,000, of whom a large number are French.

Dinant

Where is Dinant? How has it figured in history?—W. C.

Ans.—Ancient town in Belgium on the right bank of the Meuse, in the province of Namur connected by a bridge with the left bank, on which are the station and suburb of St. Modard. In the middle of the 15th century it had a population of 60,000 with 8,000 workers in copper. In 1904 its population was 7,574. Dinant, secure in the strength of its castle on the center bridge, defied the power of Burgundy. In 1466 Charles of Burgundy (or his son) laid siege, and on August 27 took the town by storm. In 1675, Louis XIV. captured Dinant, and it remained French for three years. The citadel on the cliff, 300 feet above the town, fortified by the Dutch in 1818, is now dismantled.

Mulhausen, Liege

Where is Mulhausen? what size is it? How do you pronounce Liege?—A. G.

Did the English ever capture Liege? What is its population?—
G. H.

Ans.—A town in Prussian Saxony
25 miles by rail north-northwest of Götting, and on the road to Strasburg, the fortified town and episcopal see in lower Alsace. Population 35,000.

Ans.—(Pronounced Le-ah) Capital of a province of Liege, and episcopal see of Belgium, situated 55 miles southeast of Brussels, on the Meuse. It is defended by a ring of modern forts. Liege fell before the Greco-Bulgarian War of 1913.
The city is famous for its university, attended by over 1000 students, and for its historic churches, some of which date back to the 10th century. Population 100,000.

gone to their town house for the winter.

Bow Valley

Our Bow Valley correspondent reported just in time to save a scouting party being sent out to look into the disappearance.

The rural line telephone will be completed in about a week.

The sinking of the well at the schoolhouse is progressing rapidly.

Harvesting is almost over for 1914 and threshing will begin next week. The crops are very good in this immediate neighborhood for which all are thankful.

J. J. Harper had the misfortune to lose a valuable colt last week.

Miss Patterson is the new school mistress of the Bow Valley school.

S. L. Purcell had a colt severely cut in the wire last week.

Art Ahrens went with an accident last Sunday. She said, "No! Yes, boys, it is to laugh."

Fred Gardner reports a good time last Sunday evening.

Not Eddy reports the sale of $1200.00 worth of pork since spring.

Hugh Parker took a trip to Calgary to have his teeth repaired.
It is hoped that she passed the job,
Hugh.

William Eddy has decided to possess his trip abroad on account of the war.

Leander Schwartz and his brother Herbert have returned from their homesteads in the Red Deer country.

Bow Valley used to have a horse ball team. Well, accidents will happen, eh? Dusty.

Luke has found a buyer for his farm and also his threshing outfit.
Ned and Alex Eddy have just completed enclosing some large hog pasture.

F. Demour and son have the contract to paint the schoolhouse and outbuildings.

Some people are certainly neigh-borly with other people's crops.

Chickens seem to be numerous in the Bow Valley, both prairie and the other variety.

Mrs. Doyle and Miss Ruth Doyle returned on Saturday from a pleasant vacation spent at Banff and with friends at Calgary. Miss Doyle returns to resume her place on the staff of the Clareholm Public School.

Remember the shooting season opens next Tuesday.

hibit in these classes.

In the dairy, domestic and art work classes there was a good exhibit, only two entries for these came in but 24 entries were received for the butter competition. There is no doubt that the splendid special prize offered by J. P. Crumley was an incentive to competition in this class. The judge remarked that the standard of butter and the keen competition in this class were remarkable, there being five country fairs that could approach the exhibit of the Stavely Fair, in this line.

Bread, cakes and candy were in goodly array and there is no doubt of the excellence of the Stavely housewife as cook. The dilemma in which the judges of these exhibits found themselves is in any indication. The fancy work exhibit would be hard to beat in the west outside of the cities. The Stavely society offered prizes in 44 sections and there were entries in 40 of these, 137 entries in all. It is perhaps unwise to mention any particular work on the table but the tatting and point lace displayed by Mrs. Jas. Blair, of Granum, appeared to be the center of attraction of the ladies during the afternoon.

Last but by no means least is the school work; a splendid display, over 45 entries in 12 classes and here the judges had the greatest difficulty in placing the awards. Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Ward, the teacher of the Ballou school, upon the remarkable work upon exhibition by her pupils. The writing in all grades was remarkable, in the smaller grades, particularly so. Mrs. Ward's pupils carried off nearly all the prizes for specimens of writing.

Little will be said about the races. They were a minor part of the exhibition because the farmers are beginning to take a greater interest in that phase of the real purpose of the agricultural fair. This has been a dry year, crops are not good and many are afraid of the results but the Stavely Fair had just the same number of exhibitors as in the bumper crop year of 1913, viz., 59 with more entries, 513, than in 1913 and $954 in prizes as against $860 in 1913. If any more proof is needed to show the worth of the agricultural fair, the doubt-er must be from Missouri. The races were very good but a list of the winners has not been available. This is true, however, the most of that money went out of the locality while the rest of the prize money stays in the hands of the farmers.

In the foot races, prizes for which were offered by the Stavely Literary Society, there was not the competition that was expected. Three competed in the 220 yards dash and four in the half-mile. The former was won by Hosking, of Parkland, with Haynes, second and Scott, third. In the half-mile, John Wallace, of Stavely, was first, with Daniel Hooper, second. Hosking and Scott, of Parkland, also ran. The Stavely management have great reason to be proud of the success which they have achieved and should be encouraged to greater effort for next year to keep the agricultural importance of the Fair to the district before the minds of the people during the entire year.

Appalling Loss of Life and Wealth.

It has been proved by fifty years of classified insurance in Great Britain that every moderate drinker loses thirteen years of life. He dies at 51, while the abstainer lives to 64. On this basis there are in the United States some 20,000,000 adult males each of whom is losing thirteen years of life. There is no doubt that the splendid special prize offered by J. P. Crumley was an incentive to competition in this class. The judge remarked that the standard of butter and the keen competition in this class were remarkable, there being five country fairs that could approach the exhibit of the Stavely Fair, in this line.

And what of the economic loss to the nation? Stop and think what a loss to each generation of the nation on the altar of moderate drinking 200,000,000 wealth producing years! This, observe, does not take into account the heavy drinking. It has been aptly said, "To strike down alcohol would be the equivalent to doubling all the products that come from mother earth, the equivalent of giving to the nation another continent as broad, as fair, as rich, as this one."

Literature Selection, 1914-15

The literature selections for the High School for the years 1914-15 are as follows: Grade IX: Poetry: Arnold's "Schirah and Rostum," Burns' "Saturday Night," Rossetti's "White Ship," Browning's "Herze Riel," Prose: Hawthorne's "The Great Stone Face," Dickens' "The Cricket on the Hearth," Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man," Collateral Reading: Church's "Odyssey," Scott's "Talisman," Longfellow's "Hiawatha." Grade X: Poetry: Scott's "The Lay of the Last Minstrel," Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream," Prose: Macaulay's "The Traveller," Collateral Reading: Dickens' "Oliver Twist," Laut's "Lords of the North." Grade XI: Poetry: Shakespeare's "Henry V.," Tennyson's "The Holy Grail," Selected Lyrics, Palgrave's "Golden Treasury," Prose: Macaulay's "Hastings," Johnston's "Russells," Collateral Reading: Southey's "Life of Nelson," Goldsmith's "The Traveller," Lytton's "Harold."

His Honour, Judge McNeill, in Chambers.

Macleod, Friday the 10th day of July, A.D. 1914.

UPON the application of H. O. Haslam, Solicitor for the Town of Claresholm.

It is hereby appointed Tuesday the 29th day of September A.D. 1914, at the Court House (Old-Hellows Hall) in the Town of Claresholm in the Province of Alberta, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon so soon thereafter as may be convenient for holding a Court of Confirmation of the Tax Enforcement Return of the Town of Claresholm.

Judge, District Court, Macleod, 15-22

Fine Year's Record

From the last issue of the Stavely Advertiser, was omitted through an oversight an account of the annual meeting of the local branch of the Alberta Farmers' Co-Operative Elevator Co. The meeting was held two weeks ago Monday. Mr. McKay, of Provost and Mr. Carwell of Red Deer addressed the meeting. The report for the year's business of the local was read. Over 322,000 bu. of grain were handled; 6 cars of hops shipped; 2 cars of flour, 1 of wire, 1 of posts, 1 of twine were distributed. The new board of management will consist of Messrs J. W. Wilford, C. A. Hersey, S. T. Marshall, M. Arnestad, Gus Malchow, Sr. The two first mentioned are the delegates to the general meeting at Calgary in October.

Come and See

It may be a far cry from war and harvest to speak of Xmas but we wish to mention that there arrived at the Advertiser office yesterday a fine, large album containing one of the best assortments of Xmas Greeting cards which we have seen. The Western series is exceptionally done and the designs are really unique. We obtained these samples early so that interested purchasers may have plenty of time to look over the samples and the ladies will have plenty of time to inspect these samples and change their minds, which is their prerogative, many times if they desire. We are not selling just now but we invite every body to come in and see these samples, just to give you an idea of what a splendid range of choices these offer. Drop in and look our Western Series over. They are purely Canadian and better than the best.

An Equal Chance for All

Again it is necessary to repeat that in The Advertiser's Summer Pastime the little girl who never saw a baseball has as good a chance to pick out the names represented by the relief pictures as the oldest fan in the country who has talked, read and dreamed baseball, football or hockey all his life. By the use of The Advertiser's specially compiled Handbook, in which are the names from which you are to choose, everyone has an equal chance in this contest. The only reason that names were chosen from the players of those games was to give a summer aspect to the contest. We could just as well have selected the names from some city directory as the way we did. Get a Handbook and get into the game. The last in has as good a chance to win the large prizes as the first to begin.

CLARESHOLM LOCALS

Miss Ethel Cumming, of Calgary, is the guest of Miss Hashan.

C. B. Marshall, of Meadow Creek was here on Monday.

Elmo Jones made a business trip to Calgary on Saturday.

Archie Gow, of Cowley, came in this week to run Carl Galde's engine for the threshing.

Gro. Pitman and daughter, from Kenex, Alta., were in town on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, of the Clear Lake Farm, were in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. F. Reynolds and children are spending the weekend at Lethbridge.

Owing to the rain, the Bishop of Calgary was unable to hold services in Stavelo on Sunday.

The two submarines purchased by the Dominion government from Chile cost $1,050,000.

Joe Valnais and son of Meadow Creek were in town on Monday and sold 22 head of cattle.

R. G. Blissett, of Meadow Creek, paid a business visit to Calgary on Monday.

Miss Nellie Gray, of the Galt Hospital, Lethbridge, is spending her vacation at her home here.

R. D. Fetherston, of Calgary, was here on Monday on a visit of inspection to the Farmers' elevator.

Service was conducted by Rev. A. Beausoleil, of High River, at the Catholic church here last Sunday.

R. M. Watt, at one time teacher in the public school here, is now principal of the Kerrobert, Sask., school.

Principal Stephen, of the school of Agriculture, returned on Saturday from attending the irrigation congress at Pentticon, B. C.

Sam McComb and wife were in Claresholm on Tuesday. Mr. McComb sold two loads of prime cattle to P. Burns this week.

J. P. Miller, of Vernon, B. C., formerly manager of the Union Bank here, paid this town a business visit on Monday and Tuesday.

R. Austin expects to have his threshing outfit at work on Wednesday on his own place at Meadow Creek.

Mrs. Graham, dressmaker, was called to her home in South Dakota on account of the serious illness of her mother. She left last Saturday.

Remember, any questions which you wish to ask will be answered by us. Address all communications to the Summer Pasture Dept., The Advertiser, Claresholm, Alta.

Margaret Foster, from Lethbridge, is attending the High School here this term. She returned on Monday and will make her home at Rev. Harrison's.

Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, National W. C. T. U. lecturer, of Portland, Ore., will deliver an address in Claresholm on Sunday, September 6th. Watch for more definite announcement next week.

Col. Wilson, of the R.N.W.M.P., purchased only 11 head out of over 150 horses offered at Maceled last Thursday. The balance did not come up to the requirements for remounts for the mounted police.

Sir William Mackenzie was unable to float the new C. N. R. loan in England recently. The great money markets of the world have not experienced similar conditions in many years.

German and Austrian exports to Great Britain amounted to over $2,650,000,000 annually. The war offers an opportunity to the overseas dominions to secure a firm hold on this trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamont DeForest arrived on Wednesday from Winnipeg to visit Mr. DeForest's parents at Meadow Creek. While in Claresholm they were guests at the home of Jas. McKinney.

Martin Lebean returned on Saturday Morning from the Holy Cross Hospital in Calgary where he has been ill for six weeks. Martin looks very well considering his long siege.

Mrs. Fred Burton and her boys have taken the house just east of C. B. Gray's residence and will remain here to enable the children to take advantage of the excellent school.

J. H. Panger is moving into the house lately occupied by the Misses Meftae in the south end of town. Mrs. Panger will remain to give her children a chance to attend the public school here. Mr. Panger will return to his duties with the Foothills Lumber Co. at Furman.

A. E. Ellis attended the Gleichen Fair returning on Saturday. Allau left on Tuesday night for Medicine Hat to see the races there. He has Cyclone entered at the races.

J. H. and Mrs. Walton have moved into apartments just north of the I.O.O.F. Opera House until their new house on Wilkes Bend Ranch is erected and ready for occupation.

Repairs have been made so that the electric lighting is resumed in those parts of the town which suffered through the electrical storm of Saturday night blowing out the transformers on the service lines.

Mrs. Schoof and daughters, Loretta and Lucia, left on Saturday evening for Lethbridge where they will reside in future. Miss Leora will remain with her brother, Leo, in order to continue her course in domestic science at the school of Agriculture this fall.

From The Advertiser Bulletin Service

The allies are now in contact with the Germans and the battle will likely rage for several days. The allies have chosen their position and in the fighting so far the Germans have failed to gain any advantage. The allies are believed to be using the triangular formation to resist the German onslaught.

London—Semi-official despatch from Rome says Austrian fleet of about 40 units sailed to attack French. British fleet is bombarding Cattaro.

Tokyo—Japanese declared war against Germany. Fleet bombarding Tsing Tau.

Paris—Reports of Russian successes are confirmed. The plans of the allies are said to be to hold the Germans in check in the western part of the war zone while the Russians move on to Berlin.

Italian tension is increased and the belief is that war cannot be averted.

Further reports indicate Emperor Franz-Josef, of Austria, to be near death.

Washington—Tuckerton wireless station, the only means of direct communication between America and Germany, was closed by the U. S. government to-day.

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 28. Monday, Aug. 25th, 9 p.m.

Paris—Official announcement says a great battle is raging along the line from Mons to the frontier of Luxembourg, where the French have taken part in offensive movements with success. The allied forces have nearly the entire German forces. The allies first line was broken by a heavy German assault. The allies make a strategic retreat back to original line.

Paris—Official announcement says that the French fortified towns of Lunville, Amance and Douclonard on the Lorraine boundary were occupied by Germans to-day. French positions are not otherwise modified.

London—British army from Mons join French in attack on German right. Operations in wooded country difficult.

NEWS SUPPLEMENT to THE ADVERTISER

CLARESHOLM, ALTA., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 26th, 1914.

Pranks of the Storm

The thunderstorm of Saturday put all the transformers on the electric lighting system west of Shelver street out of commission except the one at the Presbyterian Church and left all that section in darkness. Some peculiar vagaries of the storm are reported. The storm centre seems to have been on Fourth ave., west of Shelver. Dan Dougan was leading a horse in the vicinity and both horse and man were rolled over but unhurt. Will Mackenzie, who was in the neighborhood, was rolled over in the dirt. The fuse plug blew out with force in Mr. Boniface's house and narrowly missed his head. Plants were thrown from their stands and plaster torn from the walls at Mr. Cornthwaite's home. Other more or less startling incidents are being related. Fred Anderson's horses bolted with the milk wagon and threw him out but he succeeded in stopping them before they got out of hand. The town electrician was working overtime for two days, repairing the damages wrought to the lighting system.

War Feeling in England

In a very interestingly written letter received by E. G. Barber from Mrs. Barber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. McClean in Brighton, Eng., the condition of the country during the days of warlike preparation is graphically set forth. It is regretted that the letter cannot be re-produced in its entirety here. Many of the coast towns of England are under military control. Hospitals are being equipped in cottages for the care of the wounded sailors and soldiers. The letter speaks of the sinking of the mine-laying German boat off Harwich. The incongruity of the British vessel first destroying the enemy and then putting out boats to go to the rescue of the sailors of the doomed ship, the ghastly sight afforded by the wounded with legs and arms shot away, is tellingly told. The commandeering of all types of vehicles for army transport service is mentioned. Speaking of the feeling of the English people toward the kaiser, the letter says, "He has been watching his chance for years to take England at a disadvantage and thought that the Irish question would turn out to be a serious thing for the government and that the army would mutiny and all sorts of other complications would arise, the aftermath of the recent strikes, etc., but England to-day is one solid nation, all cemented together, forgetting their differences, strikes and other labor troubles. Irish differences have been set aside. Roman Catholics and Protestants have shaken hands and have sworn to fight side by side for the common good of the vast empire. All political parties races and creeds have joined together with a determined resolve to wallop the rascal who has for years been the hindrance to progress and peace in the whole eastern hemisphere."

"Some of the rascally storekeepers have doubled the prices of their foodstuffs and have sold out their whole stock to those who could afford to pay those prices and buy in large quantities, thus leaving their poorer neighbors in a starving condition. But the government have issued a warning to them that they will be dealt with as thieves and the government has invited any who have been victimized to write to headquarters and these unscrupulous persons will be prosecuted."

Mr. McClean says in the letter that work is being found in municipal construction for the poor and that the Prince of Wales has headed a fund for the poor. The crops are excellent fortunately which will help to relieve in some measure the deprivation that would naturally follow war. The letter was a very lucid description of the conditions in England at this time.

STOP PRFSS NOTE

Additional Locals

Chris. O. Galde, of Cutbank, Mont., arrived on Monday on a business visit to Clareholm. He was for many years a farmer in this neighborhood where he still has business interests. This district looks better to him than ever in spite of the crops not being so good as they have been in other years.

A party consisting of W. J. Stokes, Mrs. Stokes and daughter Norma, of Calgary, Miss McNeill, of Wardsville, Ont., Miss Butler, of London, Ont., Miss Metcalfe, of Vancouver and H. L. Stephens, of Calgary, motored through town to Lethbridge on Thursday returning on Saturday on their way to Calgary.

E. McKeeley called on The Advertiser to-day. He is attached to the editorial staff of the Peterboro Daily Examiner but is on furlough in the west. Mr. McKeeley is staying at the home of Richard Brown and intends to see some threshing before he returns to Peterboro, Ont.

Record Attendance at the Public and High Schools

The Clareholm Public and High Schools opened on Monday morning with J. W. Forde, B. A., late of Calgary, as the principal. At once it became evident that the trustees were to be faced with the problem of providing accommodation for the great number of pupils who were ready for the opening. It was decided to secure a teacher at once and Miss Blanche Atkinson, of Calgary, was engaged to teach Grades IV and V. As the curriculum has been extended, it was decided that Mr. Forde would find it sufficient to take charge of Grades X and XI. Miss A. R. McRae will teach Grades VIII and IX, Miss Gaudin taking charge of VI and VII, Miss Todd II and III and Miss Doyle with her primary classes as before. Over thirty pupils have presented themselves for High School enrolment, several from adjoining towns attending here. Stavely sends three and Granum two or three. The board has had the rooms freshened with calomine and paint and otherwise prepared for the year's work. The school bids fair to earn for itself this year even greater laurels than in the past and with its staff of teachers and the equipment and buildings, the Clareholm School affords educational advantages that are not surpassed by any school in any town of its size in the province.

Royal Arch Chapter Formed
